

MORGAN TO SEND LEADERS TO RD STATE WORKSHOP

Agency Committee to Be Formed To Assist In Rural Communities

Morgan County's Rural Development Committee heads and local representatives of state and federal agencies met with State Rural Development leaders in the REA building Tuesday morning to plan Morgan county's part in a Rural Development workshop to be conducted in Lexington Feb. 10-14.

The committee will select four leaders from the county to attend the four-day workshop. The Kiwanis Club will pay $20 on the expenses of each.

Those attending the workshop will receive training in Rural Development leadership and then will be expected to assist in explaining the Rural Development program to various groups and communities in their counties. Meanwhile all local workers in federal and state agencies and representatives of various groups cooperating with the Rural Development program were urged to form an agency committee to assist in the program. Such a meeting will be held at the home of County Agent Carl Sinclair Jan. 13.

This agency committee—representing the Extension Service, the Soil Conservation Service, ASC, F.H.A., vocational-agriculture, home economics, R.E.A., health department, schools, Department of Public Assistance, the Kentucky Bankers Association—will be called upon to assemble and list all the services available to rural people from each of the agencies.

This information will be disseminated among rural people to acquaint them of what is available to them to help raise their economic level in four phases of living: agricultural, industrial, educational and social.

After being advised of all these services and aids, people in rural communities may meet and decide which of them they want to take advantage of, some on a community-wide basis, others individually.

Then, it will be the responsibility of the Rural Development committees to assist rural people and communities in obtaining what they have chosen as their goals. There may be both long-term and short-term goals.

Attending the meeting were Mike Duff, Extension Service specialist in Rural Development; Dewey Bayless, supervisor of vocational education in this area; County Agent Carl Sinclair, Home Agent Evelyn Sinclair, SCS Technician Berlyn Brown, F.H.A. Supervisor Prichard Caskey, vo-ag teacher Paul Williams, Ellis Boggs, Extension Service representative for Rural Development in this area; Rev. James Norsworthy, Rev. Joe Nevius, B. E. Whitt, Elmer Anderson and Earl W. Kinmer and Mrs. Roy Nickell, home economic teacher.

FARM BUREAU HEAD ASSAILS U. S. FARM PRICE AID SUPPORT

CHICAGO, Dec. 10.—The American Farm Bureau Federation was asked by its leader Tuesday to seek elimination of the Government's multibillion-dollar farm-price-fixing and surplus-storage programs. Farm Bureau President Charles B. Shuman told the federation's 39th annual convention that the flow of supplies now held should be frozen for emergency use only.

At present the Government has about eight billion dollars invested in surpluses. It has been losing more than a billion dollars a year in handling them.

MORGAN FARMERS GET 60,000 TREES

(Soil Conservation District News By Berlyn Brown, SCS)

Fourteen Morgan farmers have purchased 61,000 tree seedlings to date to plant on their farms next year for timber production, erosion control and Christmas tree production. Morgan county's tree planting goal for 1958 is 140,000 trees.

ACP cost-sharing for tree planting in 1958 is $16.00 per acre and $20.00 per acre under the Soil Bank program. Again I like to remind you to get your tree orders in now as stocks are limited.

Roy Halsey, Mize and Elwood Motley, Ezel, had farm ponds constructed last week.

Prichard Caskey, West Liberty, plans to sow 30 acres of bottom land to sericea lespedeza. Boyd Blair, 10 acres at Zag and Woodrow McClurg, Blaine plans to sow 3 acres. Thirty pounds of sericea per acre seeded along with the minimum requirements of lime and fertilizer will qualify in the 1958 ACP program.

TURKISH LEAF MEET SET HERE

There will be a meeting on Aromatic (Turkish) type tobacco at the County Extension office upstairs in the Courthouse on Thursday, Dec. 19, at 1 p.m.

County Agricultural Agent Carl W. Sinclair will discuss experiences with this crop last year by using pictures and colored slides. Plans will be made to order the equipment for heating units for farmers who want to grow Turkish tobacco.

Plans for curing facilities and signing contracts with the company also will be discussed. Russell Hunt, Extension Tobacco specialist, said that in order to grow Turkish one must have: (1) Suitable land, (2) Labor, (3) Equipment, (4) Be willing to attend field meetings and to learn how to grow this crop.

Seed and burlap will be furnished by the company through the county agent's office. Seed will not be given to people who only want to see what it looks like.

This is not a crop that you have to beg someone to buy if it is produced according to instructions. There is no cost in selling this crop and it requires little or no cultivation, topping, suckering or heavy lifting. Eighty-five million pounds of this tobacco is imported annually and all tobacco companies use it, but only one-half million pounds has ever been produced in one year on this country. North Carolina has grown this crop for ten years.

FAYETTE GIVES MORGAN POLIO CHAPTER $1,290

The Morgan County chapter National Foundation For Infantile Paralysis last week received a gift of $1,290 from the Fayette County chapter to apply on its indebtedness.

The Morgan county chapter already had borrowed $1,200 from the National Foundation and needed several hundred dollars more to provide care for polio patients already under treatment. The gift from the Fayette county chapter will help tide the local chapter over until money is received from the Tobacco For Polio Drive now underway. Mrs. H. B. Murray, chapter chairman, said.

Meanwhile all farmers are urged to contribute a stick of stripped tobacco to the fund. Mrs. Murray pointed out that when the Morgan farmers donate tobacco at warehouses the county where the warehouse is located gets the proceeds. Thus it is important that Morgan farmers donate their tobacco at home. Collections are being made by members of the Homemakers clubs, and at the Blair Wholesale and Brown's Hardware in West Liberty and at Harold Rose's store at Ezel.

Morgan was one of 12 counties to receive gifts from the Fayette chapter. David C. Lagrew, chapter chairman in Lexington, said, "We have $24,400 more than the anticipated patient-care and vaccine needs for our county for this year, so we cannot sit idly by while polio victims in neighboring counties need surgery so they can use their hands or so they can walk."

Meanwhile an inch of snow fell Tuesday night and Wednesday, made highway travel hazardous.

The persons receiving the chicks will sign a contract agreeing to keep records and carry their pullets through the fall egg laying period. Each person receiving these chicks will give back 12 pullets which will be sold to keep the project going. There will be a special poultry show for these members with $80 being furnished for premiums.

OIL FOUND IN 3 WOLFE WELLS

CAMPION, Ky., Dec. 6.—In the past few weeks, oil has been found in paying quantities in three wells drilled in widely separated sections of the county. Exploration for oil is under way in other communities.

A well drilled to a depth of 1,246½ feet on the farm of Floyd Sparks in Upper Tar Ridge, was "shot" last week. Twenty quarts of detonator were lowered into the hole by Hershel Garrett, an employee of the Du Pont Powder Co., Irvine. The earth belched forth enough crude oil to spread over a 75-yard radius.

This lease, owned by Millard Creech, is part of a block of more than 1,900 acres that Creech has acquired. The Evaluation & Sales Co.—with Cliff Collins as manager, Mt. Pleasant Mich., is in charge of drilling operations.

On the P. R. Legg lease near Torrent two wells have been drilled by the Inrico Oil Co., New York, with Benito Dell'Aquila, president, in charge of operations. Enough oil has flowed from these wells to indicate a good field. The raw product is being sold to Ashland Oil & Refining Co.

Paul Zeeb, who is assisting in supervision of the work, said the wells "are pumping on a good, paying basis." Zeeb, a native of New York, owns interests in other leases near Campion, Ky., and Mrs. Dell'Aquila, who left a thriving business in Hoboken, N. J., to prove to friends that oil could still be found in Wolfe County, said, "We have come to stay."

The Inrico Co., has outlined plans for two more wells in the near future.

Charlie Barker, Slade, who has been connected with the oil industry for many years, has struck oil on the farm of Mrs. Dora Elkins on Bear Pen, two and one-half miles southwest of Campion. Barker said this well has been producing from two and one-half to three barrels an hour but he expects it to settle to between 15 to 20 barrels a day. He said that he plans to drill another well on this farm in the spring.

FLORESS— REMEMBERS TOGS WORN AT AGE 7

FLORESS, Ky., Dec. 9.—(By Nora Easterling)—The request of Elder R. H. Ferguson about when Mrs. Elisha Burk's funeral was preached started rolling back the pages of time in my mind of a timid little girl of 7 years of age—which to me was one of the best old fashioned meetings I remember in my childhood days. I not only remember being there, I remember the dress and coat I wore. Always being afraid of large crowds I never failed to make some mistake if I got among a lot of people. Wearing a very pretty hand-me-down yellow coat with flowers embroidered on it, I was braver than usual. I wandered out in the crowd, so they could see my pretty coat. I started to run back to Mama and my pretty dress being down to my ankles tripped me and I fell headlong among those big people, messed up my pretty dress and coat. I hung on to Mama's skirt until Mrs. W. W. Smith (Haley) gave me and her daughter, Exie, cookies, and I didn't cry any more. I remember the ministers well and my grandfather, Elder Jacob Johnson, who preached a while—the only time I ever heard him preach. Mrs. Elisha Burks was my Dad's baby sister and married my mother's brother. That was about 1915. Aunt Lily, as we called her, sang "Bread of Heaven" and died a-shouting. The scripture Isaiah 40:2 was a comfort to her family, since she was not a church member. I would love to know more about that sugar grove. It seems only yesterday that we gathered under those trees. And was James Ferguson Jim P. Ferguson? I remember Aunt Sarah Pelfrey being sick. Mrs. R. H. Ferguson is my mother's schoolmate.

To Bernard Hager

Bernard Hager of Lebanon, O.; Mocking Bird Hill and Honey-moon Holler is the Uncle Will McClure Branch up above T. H. and U. G. Easterling's. I am taking down notes for a book I hope to write. Those pretty names will be very romantic for a base. I'll try not to forget how you could sleep all day in the shade on Contrary Fork and tell more about Nature's beauty than anyone. And how you could sleep on your desk at school and make the best grades and outspell the whole Lacey Creek community.

Former Resident Writes

Yours truly received a letter from Lewis O. Williams of Plymouth, Ind. R. 2., who is 90 years of age and lived on a farm joining my grandfather Jacob Johnson in Magoffin county. He writes:

"I note in reading your letter in the Licking Valley Courier you request information about your grandfather, Jacob Johnson. I was sure glad to see their picture in The Courier, and I am giving it a place in my Bible to rest as long as I live. The first time I ever saw Jacob Johnson, he ate dinner at my father's home when I was a boy. He had been to church somewhere in the neighborhood. I guess it was at some home as there wasn't any church house in the neighborhood. He had just moved to Magoffin. He was going on two crutches. I think he had already begun to preach at that time. I could not be sure about it. He bought a small track of land nearly adjoining my father's farm and built a cabin home on it and was there quite a while. He taught. I went to school to him. He was teaching in a small house that was on my father's farm. It had no floor, no window, and no shutter for the door. There was a fireplace. It was cool February weather and we had been having fires and left some coals and chunks still burning. The house caught fire and burned down that night. He got a house somewhere and moved and finished the school in his house. He was a real old time schoolteacher and could get along with the scholars without any trouble. When they would get tired and drowsy he would tell some kind of joke and have a big laugh. They would always come up with a good lesson. He took more pains trying to teach the children than any teacher I most ever went to. He taught his home school when he wasn't teaching somewhere else. I went to school with most of his children. I was some older than any of his children. I worked with him and the boys many days. As to his preaching, he was as deep a man on the scripture as I ever heard preach, and he was not just a Sunday Christian. It was seven days a week. I could quote a lot more about him and his family and not say anything bad about them.

I hope you may be able to read this as a man 90 years old may not be able to write a steady hand. Best regards.—Lewis O. Williams.

Whitt "Best-Dressed"

When Bernard E. Whitt was superintendent of Morgan County schools in '27 and '28 he was the best dressed man in West Liberty and the kindest person to the country children I ever met.

Mr. Whitt we wouldn't have guessed you would ever enjoy climbing over the hills squirrel hunting and would be writing down-to-earth history of Morgan. Your descriptions of Morgan's woodlands and valleys are getting to be the best part of L.V.C.

A greeting card comes from George Ann Hogg, Mount Sterling. Other gifts to the Walter Johnson shower were from Vinson, Kate and Leova Williams and Minnie Elam.

IN LOVING MEMORY OF JOYCE EVELYN ADKINS
Our hearts were saddened, no longer gay.

You passed away just one month ago today. On November the 8th, your life here was gone. But leaving your memory, vivid and strong.

We miss you, Joyce, your dear sweet face. Nobody ever can quite take your place. Our high school days have lost so much—We miss your gay laugh, your warm friendly touch. The voice we loved so, by death now is still. But we know you're just sleeping on that green hill. We can't question the fact—God surely knows best. We're so sure, Joyce Evelyn, your soul is at rest.

From all who miss her

"ALMOST, BUT NOT ENOUGH" is our verdict on how close competitive cars have come to matching the Swept-Wing 58. Take style. Other new cars are "almost" as low in inches, but still seem high and boxy in looks. Some of them are "almost" going to fins, but not enough to really make a difference. Then take performance. None of the other 1958 cars have anything to match the sway-free, dip-free, vibration-free ride of Torsion-Aire. (It's standard equipment.) Most of them still don't even have push-button driving! So after you've seen the "almost" cars, come in and drive a Swept-Wing 58. You'll see why we say: They're catching on, but they can't catch up.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

The Courier—We are both well. We have been planting corn and beans today. We have our potatoes planted. Floyd brought in a mess of roasting ears today. Sweet potatoes grow the year round here. The weather is just like summer. Flowers in bloom. Trees don't shed their leaves like they do in Kentucky. Floyd was 80 years old the 4th of November. He is in perfect health. His two girls that live here in Florida, Mrs. E. P. Smith and Mrs. W. J. Bays, they surprised him with a birthday dinner.

There are plenty of oranges here. We have six trees. They are turning yellow. Here is list of who was at the dinner: Mr. and Mrs. Roy Miller, Karen Lynn Miller, Brenda Sue Miller, Leroy Miller, Mary Ethel Miller, Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Strouder, Marvin Patton, Mrs. Chas. Patton, Mr. and Mrs. Dave Hall, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Craft, Pat Craft, Mr. and Mrs. Manuel Cornett and Pat, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Wood, Irene Brown, J. M. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Bays, Alice Bays.

MRS. FLOYD CRAFT
Fellersville, Florida

Find enclosed $3 for The Courier to be sent to my mother, Mrs. Mary Lou Weaver, 1210 Shaker Road, Franklin, Ohio.

Mother's eyes have failed her, so she is unable to read anymore, but she has no difficulty getting some one to read it for her.

Your paper is so newsworthy and so refreshing, like a letter from home. Even the neighbors—who by the way aren't from Morgan county—await the arrival of the Courier almost as eagerly as she does. So she has no trouble getting someone to read it to her.

Home, as your paper may appear, let us never forget its importance in the light of recent developments in our nation. The ominous "beeping" of the enemy satellites as they wing their poisonous way over our beloved America, belie the "peace, peace, all is peace" prattle of captive newspapers of the U.S. who have become mere sounding boards from which have emitted the false doctrine of appeasement and bought peace at any price, or peace in my time, that is supposed to be the voice of the American people.

When Napoleon made the statement that he "feared three newspapers more than a million guns," he surely didn't mean many of the Quisling sheets and newspapers of today who through lack of pure intestinal fortitude lack to proclaim their and the American people's feeling.

Let us hope the American public and especially our defense department will take advantage of this warning the Reds have so generously or stupidly given us by daring to send their noisy doghouse over our freedom-loving country and wake up before it is too late.

Patrick Henry warned his people their liberty was threatened. These people would never be satisfied by taking our freedom. Ask any Hungarian.

ANSWERS BIBLE QUESTION

The Courier:

In answer to the question concerning the "four beasts around the throne of God," I express my opinion as follows:
The four beasts of Rev. 4: 6, 7 of the A.V. have the same meaning as "living creatures" in Ezek. 1, 6, and have been altered to "living creatures" in the R.V. The A.V. of the Bible I most generally use, however, in this case I prefer the R.V. rendering "living creatures." The "living creatures" (beasts) are the "cherubim." The "cherubim" is the highest order of angels (guardians), and are generally thought to represent the whole animate creation in the thought that the unresting activity of nature under its Creator is a ceaseless offering of praise to him.

In Ezekiel the "cherubim" have four faces each in the likeness of a lion, an ox, a man and an eagle and have four wings. The description is similar but not quite the same here (V. 7). Beneath their wings they are full of eyes. The Biblical writers represent the "cherubim" symbolically at least, as animate beings with the intelligence of man, the strength of an ox, the courage of the lion, the free motion of the eagle through the air and the eyes suggest the unrelenting vigilance with which they guard the throne.

HOW WOODSBEND AND KELLACEY WERE NAMED

John Burns May, postmaster at Woodsbend for several years, named the office Woodsbend after Flatwoods and a bend in Licking River near the community. Joe Terrell is now postmaster here.

Kellace post office was established as Elder office in about 1880 and J. F. Cox was postmaster. Cox was succeeded by Hall Carpenter and Shelt McKinney. When Ada Cox became postmaster, she named the office Kellace after Kell and Acey Cox, brothers of her husband, Tom Cox. By combining the two names, the office was named Kellace and the new office established May 29, 1922. Acey later was killed in an accident while helping build the bridge across Blackwater.

WHITT WALKS 150 MILES IN COUNTY

Ray Johnson of the Cole Hotel Shopping Center was in the office Monday and asked Bernard Whitt how many miles he got to the shoe while tramping in the woods on hunting trips.

Nora Easterling writes from Honeymoon Hollar this week that she did not dream that the Bernard Whitt, who was the best-dressed man in town and the kindest person to country children when he was school superintendent back in 1927-28, would ever enjoy walking around the woods and hills.

Many readers are enjoying Whitt's accounts of his travels over Morgan county's hills and dales. And he is not a "whit" concerned about the shoe leather he is wearing out. He wears tennis shoes! The better to sneak up on a squirrel with, he says. And we heard him say he guessed he had walked 150 miles in Morgan county since he started his travels back in late summer.

WOODSBEND SCHOOL AND CHURCH DATA

By Bernard E. Whitt
The Mission Church

About 1941 Rev. and Mrs. Glenn DesJardins came to Index where they conducted a mission church and Sunday school until 1945 when they moved to Woodsbend and since have built a beautiful church of concrete and a parsonage also of concrete. They have Sunday school at 9:30 a.m. each Sunday and church services following. The Sunday school attendance is between 30 and 50. Rev. and Mrs. DesJardins like the community around Woodsbend very much, and Mrs. DesJardins said "the people are so good and so willing to help." The DesJardins have two sons in West Liberty high school, and three other children in Woodsbend school.

Sponsored by SCF

When I visited the school Tuesday with Arthur Hullette, Save The Children Federation consultant, we found Dexter Evans teaching the upper grades and Mrs. DesJardins substituting for Mrs. Eva May, who was unable to be present because of a death in the family.

Mr. Hullette said money the school received from SCF was used to purchase needed equipment. He said the school is sponsored by four people from the East and they are much interested in helping the school. Mr. Hullette is anxious always to have the cooperation and support of the parents in all the undertakings which is for the benefit of the pupils.

This is one of the oldest and best known schools in the county. The old building was located half mile from the new one, near the Powell Henry farm and was known as Flatwoods school. Walter Henry, a leading merchant at Kenova, West Virginia, taught the old school several years. Other teachers were Raleigh Hale, Willie Elam and several of the best teachers. The old building stands amid the white oaks near foot of the hill. Others who have taught in the district are C. C. May, who lives

OBITUARY

McGUIRE

Dona McGuire, son of Thomas and Parthena McGuire, was born Dec. 1, 1882, and departed this life Nov. 26, 1957, and would have been 76 years old Sunday, Dec. 1. He was married to George Ann Martin May 17, 1904, and to this union were born four children: Mrs. Bert Seals of Dayton, Ohio; Clyde McGuire of Grassy Creek, who survive, and Pearl and Grace who died at an early age. He is also survived by his wife George Ann; two sisters, Mrs. Anna Vance of White Oak and Mrs. Stella McGuire of New Boston, Ohio; and two brothers, Washington McGuire of Franklin, Ohio and Noah McGuire of Mansfield, Ohio. Two sisters preceded him in death, Mrs. George Patton and Mrs. Jim Nipper. Also surviving are five grandchildren, Jerry Davis of West Liberty and Billie, Janice, Lavon and Terry McGuire all of Grassy Creek, and one great grandchild, Teresa Lynn Davis of West Liberty.

He was a devoted father and husband. He was loved by all who knew him and had many devoted friends. He loved children and they enjoyed his company. He loved life and all of his was spent in Morgan county. He caused much laughter with his Irish wit. Mr. McGuire was a good man and always conducted his life and affairs in the manner of a gentleman. He left a beautiful testimony that he prayed much, trusted God fully and his soul was at peace with God.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Roe of Middletown, O., were Friday and Saturday guests of Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Lawson.

Sorry to learn of the passing of two good neighbors, Mrs. Rebecca May and Mrs. Virginia Nickell.

Dec. 3—Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Creekbaum of Middletown, Ohio, returned home today after spending a week with Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Lawson.

Attorney and Mrs. Edward Roark of Lancaster spent from Tuesday till Thursday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce McKinney and Chester. 400 LAID OFF AT FORD PLANT AT LOUISVILLE
LOUISVILLE, Ky., Dec. 10—Ford Motor Co., has laid off 400 employees at its assembly plant here because of a cutback in truck production.

A spokesman said production was limmed from 256 a day to 160 Monday and blamed it on market conditions.

A Ford car placed in the Courier will bring quick results.

FLORESS

(By Nora Easterling)

Dec. 2—Elder and Mrs. Walter Johnson and children and Naomi Conley moved from the J. V. Henry farm at Cottle to the new house just finished on the Grover Frederick lot here at Floress, Thanksgiving day. Saturday evening the neighbors gave the Johnsons a surprise household shower.

Those attending and sending gifts were: Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Elam, Mrs. Buford Pack, Mrs. Dessie Brown, Mrs. Mary Lemaster, Mrs. Sewell Hamilton, Mrs. Nannie K. Haney, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Litteral, Mrs. Louella Ferguson, Mrs. Virgil Potter, Mr. and Mrs. Vinson Williams and Leova, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Prater, Mr. and Mrs. U. G. Easterling, Mrs. Myrtle Osborn, Mrs. Florence Elam, Mr. and Mrs. James Conley, Mrs. Lelia May, Mr. and Mrs. Grover Frederick, Mr. and Mrs. Earnie Bolin, Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Easterling Misses Linda Haney, Bonnie Haney, Dora Easterling and Opal Elam and Ella Rose.

Mrs. U. G. Easterling celebrated her 76th birthday Nov. 25. Mrs. Easterling is in good health now.

Rev. and Mrs. Walter Easterling spent Thanksgiving day in the U. G. and T. H. Easterling barn, grading and tying tobacco. Mary Lou, William Curtis and Deborah Sue Conley brought us a nice hot lunch, which we ate in the barn. Grace was said by Rev. Easterling and we were mighty thankful.

Mr. and Mrs. Ezra Supthin and Mrs. Delores Caskey and children of Auburndale, Florida, writes they receive the Courier each week and enjoy my news letters.

Mrs. Sutphin who was in poor health when they left their farm at Cottle, is much improved. They send a very beautiful card, a view of Don-Cesar Hotel near St. Petersburg, Florida, Treasure Island very near the Gulf of Mexico and Boca Ciega Bay. The Sutphins and Mrs. Caskey and children have visited this scenic place.

Mrs. Ina Easterling and Gay of West Liberty visited the U. G. Easterlings Thanksgiving evening and brought them a large jam cake. Other guests were Mrs. Rena Frederick and granddaughter of Cottle and her son Jessie V. Frederick of Mansfield, Illinois.

In an hour's time, the mild spring like weather dropped to freezing Saturday here at Floress. We got our first hard freeze Saturday night with temperature soaring back up Sunday afternoon.

Paul B. Franklin of Logville visited relatives at Floress one day last week.

I was sorry to learn about Kennel Lewis being sick. Since Mrs. Edna C. Lewis has been absent from her news writing for a while, we don't hear the news very often. Mrs. Lewis I hope you can get more news letters from now on. I still miss Edna's dad, Henry Cox (deceased).

Mrs. Bessie Nickell has been taking treatments at the chiropractor at West Liberty and is better.

Mr. and Mrs. Victor Conley and Agnes went to Middletown, Ohio, this week end to see Mrs. Conley's mother who is ill.

Mr. and Mrs. Finley Kennard of Mathey were Sunday afternoon guests of Rev. and Mrs. E.

T. Nickell. Mr. and Mrs. Lige Bailey and daughter and new son-in-law of West Liberty were Sunday afternoon guests of Mr. and Mrs. Earnie Bolin.

Rev. Arlie Nickell and Jimmy hauled tobacco crops out of Honey W. m. Holar for James Conley and Walter Easterling.

In each greeting card or letter I have received since my request for them, I get a note of interest to other readers. This is the best plan yet to scare up friends and relatives of readers. It doesn't have to be a pretty card, just a post card is okay and lets others know where you are and how you the making out.
